increased risk for hip fracture among women; gum disease, often leading to tooth loss and surgery; immune from one of the largest prospective trials in lung transplant patients to date, also contrast sharply citing “serious ongoing concerns about the effect that full implementation of the statutory pedigree requirements